The War Today...

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

BRITAIN'S Prime Minister Churchill yesterday brought out that "it would not have been suitable" for Russia to be represented at the recent Anglo-American conference which "would largely if not mainly be concerned with heating and inflaming the war against Japan, with whom the Soviet government has a five year treaty of non-aggression."

That gives us one answer to the interminable query as to why Russia doesn't make war on Japan, or at least grant Britain and America the use of Siberian airfields so that we can get at the Japanese mainland. If cynics sniff at this, there's a much more realistic explanation of Moscow's attitude.

Quite apart from the non-aggression pact, it's unlikely that there's anyone in the Allied councils who would dream of asking an already overburdened Soviet to take on the added task of fighting Japan. My understanding is that high Allied circles feel it would be positively brutal to suggest any such thing.

Mr. Churchill himself declared that no country ever had withstood such devastating attack as that thrown at the Russians by the Hitlerites. He said he didn't blame Russia for any criticism it had leveled at its allies for not having opened a second front on the continent. He added that the terrific Allied aerial attack on Germany wouldn't have been possible without the magnificent stand on the Russians against the Germans.

Were the Soviet at war with Japan, Moscow today wouldn't be celebrating its third major victory in three days. The Nazi military giant facing the Reds wouldn't be rocking on his hob-nailed heels. The Allies likely would be viewing the war "through a glass, darkly."

Moscow has told us that there are more than 3,000,000 German troops, apart from satellite forces, on the eastern front. From the start Hitler massed the bulk of his terrifying striking power against the Reds in what probably was the bloodiest fighting of all time.

Even if you look on the non-aggression pact as a scrap of paper, it would be sheer military folly for Stalin to open hostilities against Japan while still engaged with Hitler. True, Russia is supposed to have between 750,000 and 1,000,000 troops close to Manchukuo; the Soviet is said to have a strong air force in Siberia, and a large fleet of submarines at Vladivostok. The Russians could hold their own, but the Japs also have perhaps a million men available in Manchukuo and Northern China and are set for contingencies.

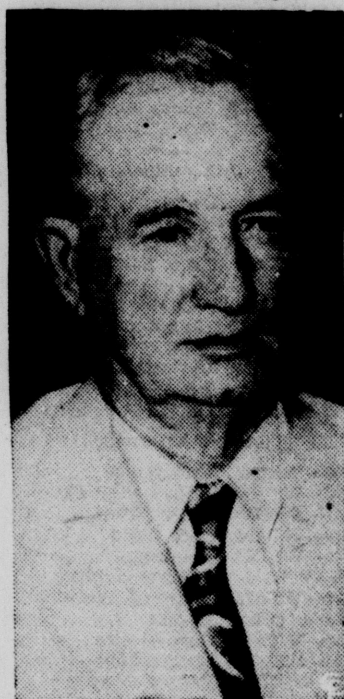

But asks somebody, why can't Russia let Britain and America use Siberian air bases for attacks against Japan? Well, the answer is that this would be tantamount to a Soviet declaration of war on the Japs.

Will Russia join the allies against Japan after the European conflict is ended? We'll have to page Marshal Stalin for that one.

HOWEVER, we can see for ourselves that the non-aggression pact looms large. That historic document was signed April 13, 1941, and doesn't expire until 1946. If neither party denounces it one year before expiration, it's automatically renewed.

So unless Japan gives just cause, Russia can't declare the war without breaking her bond. Who asks

48 BOMBERS LOST IN BERLIN ATTACK

Much Damage Is Indicated By Large Fires; Nazis Strike at England

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Fleets of RAF bombers struck in massive weight at Berlin again last night, ushering in the fifth year of war with bombing and incendiary bombs causing "great damage" in the German capital, it was announced officially today.

Forty-eight bombers were lost in the attack concentrated into a 45-minute holocaust, the fourth raid on Berlin in eight nights.

"The enemy put up very large fighter forces over the capital and its approaches in an unsuccessful attempt to prevent the launching of the concentrated attack," and a large number of them was destroyed, the air ministry said.

"Broken clouds at low levels made it difficult to assess results visually, but large fires were seen and indications are that great damage was done in this 76th assault on Berlin," the communiqué said.

Observers on the British south-east coast declared the drone of the Berlin-bound bombers was heard overhead for two hours, suggesting that the attacking force was as great or greater than that hurled against the city a week ago Monday night, when 2,000 tons of explosives and incendiaries were dropped.

The RAF raid on Berlin followed a day of intense aerial activity which saw a large force of American Flying Fortresses attack the Amiens-Clissy airport, one of the largest Nazi fighter-plane bases in France, with good results. American medium bombers struck at the Vendeville airport at Lille and at the Mazingarbe chemical works near Bethune in France.

OFFER RUSSIA PLANS TO AID

Churchill Outlines Three Methods for Stalin to Meet With Allies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill are heading toward a new series of talks against a backdrop of resurging upheavals in Nazi-fettered Europe which sound here like the first rumblings of an Allied storm over that freedom-parched continent.

There were undisputed signs that the focal point of some of the forthcoming discussions would be the question of how to bring Russia into the allied councils not only for the coordination of military operations but also for the solution of postwar political problems.

Russian participation in future meetings, at least in some degree, was described as "necessary and urgent" by Mr. Churchill in his speech from Quebec yesterday. And the President said at his press conference a little later that things were going along pretty well with respect to a three-power conference.

Then, too, one of Churchill's close associates, Brendan Bracken, British minister of information, declared that while in his opinion the war against Germany certainly would continue into next year, "postwar problem must be discussed because obviously you never know when the war is going to end."

Expert Arrival Soon

Bracken, at a press conference here last night, classed as security information the time of Churchill's arrival, but in line with disclosures at Quebec last week it was expected in the immediate future.

Churchill laid considerable emphasis in his speech on the unrest in Europe, and it was noted in informed quarters here that this is the sort of violence designed to pave the way for invading forces, whether they strike Europe in the Balkans, Norway or France.

"All of the Balkans is aflame," the prime minister said at one point in his broadcast. At another he declared: "Certainly we see all Europe rising under Hitler's tyranny x x x. What is now happening in Denmark is only another example."

To Russia the British leader held forth three different methods of meeting with officials of the United States and Great Britain:

1. A three-way conference among Stalin, Roosevelt and himself.

2. A meeting among the British, American and Russian foreign ministers or their representatives.

3. Participation by Russian representatives in "the political decisions which arise out of the victories Anglo-American forces have gained in the Mediterranean."

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reidy, south of East Palestine, have been notified that their son, Tech. Sgt. Charles Reidy, a bombardier with the U. S. air force, has been missing in action since Aug. 17.

It is believed that Reidy participated in an air raid over France on that day. The telegram announced that further details would be revealed later.

Reidy had been in the service more than 15 months and was home on furlough last spring.

He attended East Palestine schools, graduating with the class of 1933.

Goshen Grange Speaker

"The Present Feed Situation" will be discussed by H. C. Hurlburt during the lecture hour when Goshen grange meets Friday evening. The session will be open to the public after 9:30.

Butter and beans, potatoes, a calf, turkeys—and a buffalo—cover Nebraska's one-hog wager on its War Bond prowess.

Such assorted items are offered by state executives rushing to accept Gov. Dwight Griswold's challenge that Nebraska can outsell all 47 other states in proportion to their quotas, in the Third War Loan drive opening Sept. 9.

In Washington, the OPA opened a wary eye and lay in wait. Aren't meat and butter rationed?

Griswold has bet "one beautiful, big corn-fed hog."

Gov. Edward Thye of Minnesota declared: "Yes, siree, we're ready to hand over a 100-pound tub of beautiful golden butter—but Nebraska will have to step on the gas."

Salem Boy, Nine Others Keep Vigil At Remote U.S. Outpost

Corp. Burdett J. Solomon, 23, son of Mrs. Mary E. Solomon, R. D. 3, Salem, is one of 10 American soldiers somewhere on the Indo-Burman border who must rely almost entirely on Japanese radio broadcast for news of the outside world while they keep a constant vigil at their remote outpost for signs of any enemy movement toward India, according to press dispatches.

Thoughts Are Of Home

Pfc. Douglas D. Hepburn, 24, Chicago, and Pvt. Milton E. Lewis, 26, Cleveland, reported sheepishly that the "zoo" was rather powerful.

One of the men is raising ducks in a bamboo pen, just in case their food supply ever is cut off. All are learning fast about jungle tigers, head-hunters and the like, but their thoughts are on the other side of the world.

"I dreamt the other night we were all going home to our wives and sweethearts," Raysby remarked, "but when I woke up, I couldn't remember when it was we were leaving."

Mrs. Solomon has two other sons in the service. Sgt. Aquila E. Solomon is somewhere in the South Pacific and Corp. Paul Solomon is stationed in England.

There was a missionary working around here for 27 years," said Corp. Solomon. "He's gone home now. I'm afraid we upset a lot of the ideas the natives had gathered from him about white people."

"Things are quiet now because of the monsoon but as soon as it lets up, we expect the Japanese to get active again. But we don't mind. We're ready for them. Matter of fact, we'd welcome the activity, what with nothing to do but share each other's romances and flirt leeches."

Raysby and his men found it easy to make friends of the natives. "Jug Head," the Americans' name for the son of the village chieftain, even wants to return to America after the war, with Corp. Shirley Ahlers, 23, Milwaukee.

The native girls are friendly, too, but thus far the Americans have attempted no romance.

When the boys picked up news of Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto's death last April on the Japanese radio, the natives declared a three-day celebration, entertaining the Americans with liberal quantities of "zoo," a native rice beer.

Thousands Ignore Assembly Ban to Cheer as King and Queen Appear

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 1.—Encouraging words from popular King Christian X today heartened the Danish people who have refused to crack under a German military dictatorship enforced, eyewitnesses said, by merciless street executions.

Refugees who fled to Sweden declared they had seen German mechanized troops pour machine-gun fire into groups of Danes waiting on safety-zone platforms for street cars.

Three Danes who laughed and joked when German soldiers marched by were shot to death without a word of warning, eye witnesses added.

Drastic measures were ordered by Gen. Hermann Von Hennecken, military dictator, to restore a "state of normalcy" to the nation which revolted against Nazi occupation and was sabotaging German troop supplies and arms production.

King Christian, who has been imprisoned with Queen Alexandra in Sorgenfri castle since the Germans took over the Danish government Sunday, made his first public appearance yesterday—a short automobile outing under the watchful eyes of a German military guard.

In the little town of Lyngby near Sorgenfri castle, a thousand Danes ignored Hennecken's prohibition against assemblies to cheer their king and queen.

King Christian's words to the gathering were brief—"I am happy to hear the Danish language still spoken in my country, continue with that." They were significant, however, for the Danes, who apparently interpreted them as an approval of their stout-hearted resistance against overwhelming odds.

Hennecken, having crushed Denmark's brief military revolt, ruthlessly carried out against any small assemblies of Danes his threat to disperse groups without consideration of human lives.

Piano, Chairs, Even Mustache Cup, Will Gain You Admission

The rooms of the Salem Players club on E. State st. already lined with a colorful array of recently purchased stage scenery, will take on an even more theatrical appearance Friday night when the club stages a "white elephant hunt" as the feature of its meeting.

The sight of various and sundry persons carrying grand pianos, chairs, tables, top hats, frock coats, old dresses, mustache cups and the like will merely mean that they are on their way to the meeting, with their price of admission.

That's the method the club is using to secure furniture and properties for use in the club rooms and in plays. No one will be admitted without some such article, big or small.

Aside from this, however, the Friday meeting of the newly formed Little Theatre group will provide several other "variety" features, now that most of the organization details have been arranged in past meetings. The reading committee will report on several plays that are under consideration, and one or more actual scenes will be staged.

Membership in the club is still open, the officers report, and anyone who is interested or merely curious may attend the Friday meeting.

Few Fathers Register

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1.—Only 252 draft-age fathers have registered for war work here since the War Manpower commission issued its war work or induction ultimatum two weeks ago, Douglas Wilson, Cleveland area U. S. Employment service official, said today.

Comparatively few men in the "draftable" 18-35 age bracket are seeking a chance from non-essential industry, Wilson declared, although they face induction Oct. 1.

Strategic Jap Outpost Suffers Heavy Damage

Offers Free Plane Trip For Holding Baby

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1.—A free airplane trip to Florida awaits the serviceman who can convince Mrs. R. W. Witty he "needs the trip most," and can hold one of the Witty twins on his lap for the 11-hour journey.

Mrs. Witty, a Cleveland woman whose husband is an air forces major at Lakeland base, Fla., plans to fly to Orlando, Fla., Saturday with her 18-month-old twin sons.

Her own ticket entitles her to passage for one of the children and she offered to buy a second ticket for any serviceman traveling to Orlando, provided he holds her other child.

She reported eight telephone calls last night but said she is "still accepting offers and won't make up my mind until Friday."

I would like to pick the one that seems to need the trip most."

Hard Luck Trails Lisbon Health for Victory Club

Events of an unusual nature seem to attend meetings of the Lisbon Health for Victory club. The group, started in February by the Kiwanis club, has had one meeting interrupted by a severe storm which disrupted service of utilities and delayed the program.

A later meeting fell on the night Lisbon had a blackout and those attending sat in darkness for the duration of the test.

And last night, as the program progressed in charge of Miss Dorothy Trowbridge, home economist, the stage curtain at the high school building, where sessions are held, caught fire. The blaze was extinguished by Earl McClintock, school janitor.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—The Navy announced today that an airplane carrier task force raid on Japanese-owned Marcus islands "is presumably in progress."

After Tokyo had broadcast a report that the planes and guns of a large American naval force had struck Marcus at dawn, a naval spokesman issued a statement virtually confirming the Tokyo assertions.

The action is the first against this enemy held outpost guarding vital Japanese positions in the Central Pacific since March 14, 1942.

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

American warships boldly challenging Japan's immediate outer ring of defenses were reported to have bombarded Marcus island only 1,200 miles from Tokyo at dawn today, and a Japanese broadcast warned that "the enemy could have raided the mainland if he wanted to."

Imperial Tokyo headquarters said the attacking force included "many planes," suggesting the presence of one or more U. S. aircraft carriers.

No details were given, but a broadcast indicated that heavy damage was inflicted on the strategic outpost.

"Many enemy planes raided Minamitou Shima (Marcus) at dawn today, and the enemy shelled the land by naval guns," a broadcast said.

Marcus lies 900 miles northwest of Wake island, on a line from Wake to Tokyo.

As the war entered its fifth year, black news for the Axis came from virtually every major theater of conflict.

German home front—A huge armada of RAF bomb-buster raiders smashed at Berlin overnight and inflicted "great damage" in a 45-minute holocaust of bursting explosives and incendiaries, the British air ministry announced. Forty-eight RAF bombers were lost.

A communiqué said the raiders slashed through a "very large" screen of German fighter planes and kindled tremendous fires in the capital. It was the fourth raid on Berlin in eight nights and the 76th of the war.

Russia—Soviet dispatches said Red armies, thundering forward on a 600-mile front Smolensk to Tuganov, were destroying fortifications held by the Germans for two consecutive winters and threatening to crush the entire Nazi defense system in the east.

While Moscow still celebrated the triple victories of Tuganov, Sevsk and Yelnya—all achieved in one day—Soviet headquarters announced the Red armies had advanced within 45 miles of the German keystone citadel at Smolensk on the central front, driven 40 miles into the Ukraine, captured more than 370 villages and killed 8,000 Germans.

U. S. Pilots Blast Italy

Smolensk, 230 miles west of Moscow, is the chief German operational headquarters for the whole northern and central fronts.

Battle of Italy—U. S. Flying Fortresses, winging 1,000 miles round trip from bases in North Africa, blasted rail lines, airfields and an aircraft factory at Pisa on the Italian west coast, 13 miles from Leghorn, while American Liberators from the middle east attacked Pescara on the Italian east coast.

Rome said Allied planes also bombed Salerno, Cosenza and Canzanaro in southern Italy and acknowledged severe damage and casualties.

Invasion—Berlin sounded a new warning that the zero hour for an Allied invasion of Europe was approaching.

A Berlin broadcast asserted, too, that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was massing forces to strike into southern Italy, and speculated that other blows might fall upon Nazi-occupied Greece and the southern French coast.

Southwest Pacific—War Undersecretary Robert P. Patterson, on tour in the south seas battle zone, declared "There will be more surprises before very long" for Japan.

Destroy 350 Nip Planes

Allied four-engine bombers, striking without opposition, dropped 92 more tons of explosives on the Japanese airbases at Wewak, New Guinea, and destroyed upwards of 25 Japanese planes on the ground—making a total of more than 350 enemy aircraft smashed at Wewak since mid-August. A headquarters spokesman said 227 other Japanese planes were shot down in the Solomons islands in August.

Latest reports from the New Guinea fighting front said American and Australian troops swept forward in limited advances on the fringes of the big Japanese air base at Salamaua.

In the Solomons, American troops who landed on Arundel island, just west of conquered New Georgia, advanced without opposition toward a point where artillery can easily shell the 10,000-man Japanese garrison at Vila, on Kolombangara island.

China—A Tokyo broadcast said American bombers, escorted by fighters, flew from bases in China to attack the Hanalei region of Japanese-occupied French Indo-China.

Burma—Allied planes shot up Japanese river transport and bombed the enemy base at Bethesdaung.

REACH JUST PEACE IS POPE'S APPEAL TO WORLD LEADERS

Pontiff Speaks Over Air On Day Opening Fifth Year of Struggle

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Pope Pius XII called upon the world's leaders today to reach "a just peace," expressing his hope and faith that 1943 would see the end of war "and a new dawn of peace."

The pontiff spoke for 14 minutes over Vatican radio. The broadcast, in Italian, was recorded and translated at the Associated Press listening post.

Pope Pius recalled efforts to halt hostilities before they began and suggested that his present words of meditation—addressed especially to "all those willing to cooperate for peace"—would be to the advantage of every belligerent without exception.

Speaking on the day that opened the fifth year of the greatest and bloodiest struggle in human history, the pope was at pains to stress his concern not for any one nation but for the whole human family—to those he saw as asking now for nothing "but peace, bread and work."

Thrust at "New Order"

He placed his special blessing upon those "who understand the great work of a real new order," apparently an indirect thrust at Hitler's "new order" of passion and violence.

"We to those who incited to conflicts between peoples, who oppress unarmed and innocent peoples. Upon those the anger of God will descend," Pope Pius declared at another point.

The holy father's message to the world was uttered at an hour that found Italy's "war impulse" dead and gone, as Churchill put it, and Russian armies storming toward along an immense and terrible battlefield in the greatest successes they ever achieved.

A sense of approaching crisis in the course and direction and even duration of the struggle was implicit in the pope's address. Although he mentioned no country specifically, what he said strongly suggested that he believed the time of crisis had arrived, and that the war was in or very near its last great act.

"The war seems to be reaching its culmination and 'the soul of all people is revolting against violence,' a paragraph recorded by Reuters said. "In every nation, aversion to the methods of total war increases x x x a doubt whether the continuation of such a war is conformable to national interests or to reason penetrates all hearts."

TIMETABLES SUBJECT TO CHANGE

A consensus of conservative opinion on Germany's collapse places the date sometime between the coming of spring and the beginning of fall next year. But timetables are subject to change, as Hitler and his crowd learned.

The imponderable factor in their calculations was the Allied speed of mobilization. They made the mistake of under-rating both the resources and the morale of their enemies. Complete mobilization, though only now being accomplished in this country, was accomplished more rapidly among the Allies collectively than the Germans expected.

It was made possible by confidence in potentialities. The British survived because they believed they could grow stronger. The Russians fought better than they were expected to fight because they did not believe they could be defeated. The conquered peoples of Europe refused to give up hope because they believed in their ultimate deliverance. In the United States, impossible tasks were tackled and performed because Americans knew they were on the winning side. They had only to keep trying to become strong.

All these sources of strength are beyond the reach of the Germans and their satellites. They know that ultimately they must lose the war; that they have passed the peak of their military strength; that they have lost the initiative. Their potentialities have been exhausted. They cannot do better, but they probably will do worse. They have been robbed by reverses of the good psychology of optimism. In its place now is the bad psychology of uncertainty, aggravated almost daily by news so bad that even their propaganda doctors cannot make the doses palatable.

The war could last as long as the most cautious estimates, or it could end in Europe almost as soon as the most reckless estimates. The imponderables, in the light of the current news, are suddenly almost as important as the ponderables.

DENMARK, THE MODEL PROTECTORATE

The Danes, in open revolt, are giving their hated German conquerors the "new order" jitters. Denmark, which was to have been the model protectorate, is proving to be the model for revolt, not submission.

The question raised here by the exciting news about Denmark is to what extent the rebellion may be inspired from Allied sources. Such major events as the scuttling of the Danish fleet, the armed resistance of troops and imposition of strict martial law by the Germans cannot be viewed apart from their significance in the war. These may be the signs of final preparations for invasion of Europe. Denmark may have been chosen for a special role in World War II.

But whether its uprising be deliberate or spontaneous, coldly calculated or performed in hot haste, the Danes have rejected the best rule the invaders were capable of giving their victims. The Germans tried to win Danish support by a show of enlightened despotism, but in the showdown they were repudiated as enemies and hypocrites. Their troubles as the masters of Europe, which have been multiplying with frightening rapidity since the fall of Mussolini, will be aggravated in a special way by the revolt of the Danes, who had been given the least provocation to reject German rule. Destiny, or perhaps Allied strategy, has marked Denmark for some great purpose in the final overthrow of Hitler.

VICTORY GARDEN HARVEST

The minor military triumph being registered in back yards, vacant lots and scattered garden plots by war's converts to the patient art of gardening brings satisfaction out of proportion to the yield. Yet, it is noticed that in roundups of the 1943 harvest, Victory Gardeners, large, small, successful and unsuccessful, are given credit in the mass for easing the current supply problem and enabling housewives to store rationed food which will be used during the coming winter and spring to ease the future problem.

It seems only yesterday that the first seeds were planted. But four months have elapsed since then—months crowded with cultivating, weeding, thinning, spraying, dusting and hopeful waiting. Most gardeners already are making their plans for next year, inspired by success approaching their seed catalogue dreams last February. While it is too soon to say what the long-range effect of their conversion to food-growing will be, war has furnished an incentive that will endure for years to come. Those who have tasted the delight of the harvest will want to taste it again, even if, in the days to come, they must inflict the surplus on their neighbors.

THINGS COME AND GO

That Washington columnist who wanted to beat Henry Ford in a foot race has backed down gracefully, closing another incident in the industrialist's long career of taking on all comers. It wouldn't be worth mentioning, except for a nostalgic note that crept into the same day's news.

It was just 10 years ago that the late Gen. Hugh S. Johnson was flying hither and yon with the wings of the blue eagle. The eagle flew into a brick wall in Mr. Ford's industrial empire. The general floundered, the commentators castigated, the New Dealers took their hair and it looked for a time as though Mr. Ford had over-matched himself. President Roosevelt had asked for a full report on the case.

But things come and go. Mr. Ford kept coming, and the blue eagle went. Ten years later, in the opinion of his severest critics, Mr. Ford is still coming, for what it may be worth as a lesson to those who prefer to follow the line of least resistance.

NO COLLECTIVE SECURITY FOR NAZIS

Revolt and discontent in Denmark, Bulgaria, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Poland, France, the Netherlands and Norway mark a German failure as complete as the collapse of collective security that precipitated the war.

These were to have been the component parts of a German system of collective security. The Nazis knew they could not hold their gains without the cooperation of other countries. Except in places like Poland, where they considered the population to be unfit for any kind of sovereignty, they planned to create puppet governments capable of contributing to the power of a German-dominated Europe. Within the restrictions of the German mentality with its convictions of superiority, this kind of collective security promised to supplant the dream proposed by Woodrow Wilson and put into effect as the League of Nations.

There is ironic justice in its collapse even before the end of the war that Germany undertook to accomplish it.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, September 2

A REVOLUTIONARY turn in events may project the affairs as well as the life and all its objectives and interests into new highs of adventure, romance and experience. A sudden visitation may have dramatic, thrilling or far-reaching effect on the future life and its fortunes. There may be swift action, quick moves, new enterprise, all under exceptional stimuli for achievement, recognition and rich returns, albeit having many annoyances and menaces calling for complete poise and discretion. Sign papers cautiously. Seek favors and promotion, cultivate powerful friends.

Those whose birthday it is are on the threshold of a period of great adventures, dramatic achievements and far reaching joys and crises, which may turn the life into fresh grooves of happiness, accomplishment and approbation. Exceptional events precipitate this, with much enterprise, initiative, constructive responses to high stimuli in the physical, mental, emotional and business affairs. Under the stress and commotion be careful not to sign papers carelessly or open other channels to deception or fraud. Keep poised and sane, but let the gods dispense their breath-taking benefices.

A child born on this day may be blessed with extraordinary talents, inventive genius and ability.

Everybody is in favor of Americanization just as everybody is against sin.—Rep. Herman P. Eberharter of Pennsylvania.

The dream is short, repentance long.—Schiller.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Toothbrush Technique Is Discussed

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
WE ALL blithely take a lot of things on trust, which is a tribute to the general honesty of American manufacturing methods. You have your favorite tooth powder or paste and your neighbor has his—a different one—and you both put this mixture in your mouth every morning and probably swallow some of it, and yet you probably haven't the faintest idea what chemicals are in it.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

I doubt whether your doctor knows what ingredients are in his tooth powder or paste. The basis of most tooth powders, if you want to know, is powdered soap. Oh! they put other things in it, but good old soap cleans your teeth as well as cleans your skin. And the basis of most tooth pastes is glycerine and powdered soap. Sometimes tragacanth, which is a kind of mucilage, perfectly harmless, naturally. In fact, if you want an elegant tooth powder, take this prescription to your druggist.

But as a matter of fact you could certainly get a cheaper and equally good preparation by asking for one of the well-known brands.

Here is the prescription:
Calcium carbonate 50 parts
Tricalcium phosphate 15 "
Zinc peroxide 10 "
Sodium bicarbonate 6 "
Sugar 10 "

Powdered soap, enough to make 100 " and if you want an elegant tooth paste take him this:

Calcium carbonate 32 parts
Kaolin 4 "
Soap powder 18 "
Saccharin 0.2 "
Glycerine 24 "
Water enough to make 100 "

The American Dental Association has just published some researches by Drs. Epstein and Tainter, of San Francisco, on the effectiveness of a series of dental preparations ordinarily obtainable in a drug store. The particular point they wished to determine was how abrasive they were. Several years ago, in fact at the beginning of this century, it was considered that tooth powders should have rough, abrasive particles in order to clean the organic matter from the teeth.

This idea, combined with the habit then in vogue of brushing the teeth crosswise, probably did a good deal of harm. It was proved by Miller, in 1907, that tooth powders could be too abrasive, and that exposure of the gum margins and desiccation resulted. Precipitated chalk containing harsh impurities were the dentin away and cut the teeth rapidly.

The research mentioned above was conducted on strictly standardized lines. A machine was used to do the brushing and it treated all preparations with equal force.

In general the conclusions were that no commercial dentifrice now on the market contains too much abrasive. In general they are all beneficial and harmless and about equally so. The important thing is to brush the teeth up and down to reduce abrasion.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

E. M. G.: I have a craving for corn meal raw with salt and sugar added. Is there any harm in eating about a tablespoonful a day? Is there a vitamin lacking to cause this craving?

Answer: It will not do you any harm. The animals eat it raw. The experts say that if a vitamin is lacking, no craving appears whatever.

E. S.: Is there a sickness called rabbit fever? How does it act and what causes it?

Answer: Tularemia is the official name. It is caused by a germ, which infects the blood of many wild animals. It is usually imparted to a human when he dresses a rabbit and gets some of the blood containing the germ in a cut on his hand. The hand and arm swell up and large kernels (lymph nodes) appear on the arm. Prevention is by wearing rubber gloves when dressing wild animals. Cooking kills the germ, which does not impair the healthy quality of the meat.

M. R. H.: Is an X-ray taken before a baby is born, say during the eighth month, harmful to the baby or the mother? At any rate, what is the reason for the X-ray? This is the first time I ever heard of it. Answer: Absolutely no harm has ever followed the X-ray of a pregnancy. Reasons for doing it include: to be perfectly certain of the diagnosis of pregnancy, diagnosis of twin pregnancy, to see whether the child is normally developed, to measure size of child's head to see whether a Caesarean is necessary.

For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

E. LIVERPOOL ZONE CHANGES PROPOSED

EAST LIVERPOOL, Sept. 1.—The chamber of commerce today recommended that the city council abolish part of Liverpool township outside the corporation, combine two offices and abolish a third, and withhold police pension revenue for several years, to provide funds for payment of $28,270.17 of the municipality's $41,000 in overdue accounts.

The survey urged abolition of the offices of Liverpool township clerk and three Liverpool township trustees, combination of the positions of city auditor and city council clerk, and elimination of the post of assistant council clerk.

The plan would withhold $4,000 a year from the police pension fund, which is supported by a levy. The fund now totals $20,880.18.

HEALTH QUIZ

Do you have poor digestion? YES NO
Do you feel headachy after eating? ☐ ☐
Do you get sour or upset easily? ☐ ☐
Do you feel tired—listless? ☐ ☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails—your food may remain undigested—lie sour and heavy in your digestive tract.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's aid digestion of the Nature's own order, when taken as directed. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—at any drugstore—only 25¢. You will be glad you did.

WILDCAT 13 by TOM GILL

SYNOPSIS

Drew Thorpe, young geologist for the States Oil Company in Veragua, South America, and his friend, Spud Lowry, a driller, were attacked by men from the real Planet Export Corporation while exploring the Rio Bravo jungle for new oil fields. They manage to escape, with the mad of that region safely hidden in Drew's knapsack. Drew is uneasy when forced to accept medical aid for himself and his badly injured friend at the Planet's hospital on the edge of the jungle. His one ally in the enemy's camp is a beautiful nurse, Gloria Diaz, whose father, famed Dr. Hernandez Diaz, owns the hospital and openly anti-American, had recently contracted with the doctor to use his hospital for their men in the oil fields. Drew recognizes a formidable enemy in Franz Alter who, in addition to the Planet Corporation, controls newspapers and radio stations in his effort to gain the rich resources of South America for his country. Dr. Diaz assures Drew that Spud will be able to leave the hospital in a few days and invites him to dine with them. He meets Alter's attractive American wife, Nan, who explains that she and her husband reside at the hospital. Alter's laboratory being located there. Drew also meets Tono, young intern and protégé of Dr. Diaz. Later, Alter warns Drew to keep out of the Rio Bravo territory. They are interrupted by a scream from Spud and find him lying on the floor in his room—unconscious. Spud regains consciousness and tells Drew he had surprised someone in the act of searching his room. Later, Drew and Gloria discover the glass of water on his bedside table has been drugged. He feigns sleep and watches Tono make an unsuccessful search for the map. Next morning, Drew announces his intention of leaving for Veragua immediately, making the excuse that Spud's wife, Molly, must be spared further anxiety. Dr. Diaz is infuriated when Gloria offers to drive him into town.

CHAPTER TWELVE

Knapsack over his shoulder, Drew was waiting when Gloria drove up before the door.

Constrained for a time by the scene at the breakfast table, they drove in silence, while Drew watched the road unwind as they slipped over the brow of the hill and dipped down into the moist, warm jungle.

No wind there. The great moss-covered trees threw back muffled echoes of the motor's exhaust; curtains of lianas, dripping with moisture, hung thick about them; and a troupe of red howler monkeys crowded the branches of a mahogany to chatter at them as they passed. The sound of the car seemed strangely out of place there in the timeless jungle.... Later they crossed a sluggish stream where a pair of egrets took flight, seeking refuge in a celiba made gay with innumerable orchids.

Gloria drove the narrow road swiftly and surely, but he saw that her eyes still held the shadow of rebellion.

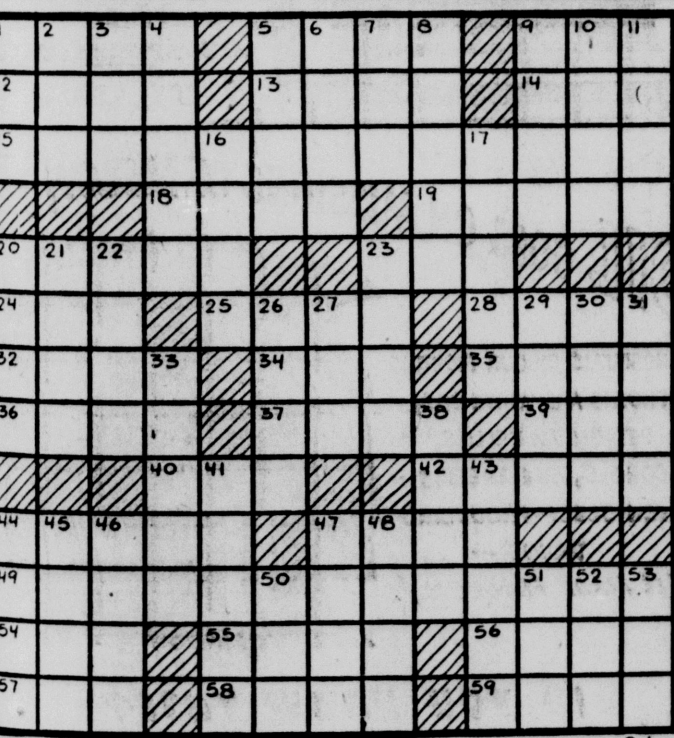

"I'm really sorry," he broke the long silence.

She looked at him. "For que?"

"For what happened with your father?"

"Oh, that. You could not help it. That has happened many times before."

Set among low rolling hills and surrounded by a barbed-wire enclosure, the camp had been carved bodily out of the jungle five years before. To the north a lofty smoke-stack dominated the skyline, and two aluminum water towers gleamed from a near-by hill. Dozens of hollow-brick houses with green corrugated-iron roofs and wide screened windows dotted the broad grass lawns, each separated from the others by hibiscus and bougainvillea hedges. A network of roads, wide and liberally ciled, curved among the buildings; and on the highest hill of all stood the country club, center of the camp's social life. Station wagons and trucks bearing the States Oil insignia rattled busily up and down the roads, and here too the smell of warm road oil hung heavy on the air.

Directly outside the cluster of office buildings Gloria stopped her car. "Here you leave me, no?"

Reaching for his knapsack, Drew stepped down. "Will you do something for me?" he asked.

"Seguro."

"Before you go back, I want you to talk to Molly, Spud's wife. You can tell her better about Spud than I can. You'll like her, and I know she'll like you. You're both pretty good people."

"Bueno." She looked at her wrist watch. "I'll be back here—in three hours."

They both smiled; with a wave of the hand she drove out the gate, and Drew ran up the steps of the broad yellow-painted building that housed the executive offices of the company. Inside came the din of numerous clacking typewriters; office boys hurried up and down the bare stairs; and telephone bells were continually ringing.

Works to Repay Friends Who Aided Him Regain Sight

(By United Press)

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Through the good-heartedness of "people," some of whom he had never met, Pasquale Rotundi is re-discovering the world of sight again after four years of blindness.

Joe De Beer, secretary of the United Blind of Minnesota, started matters rolling when Rotundi came to him and said he had hope that an operation might give him back his sight.

On De Beer's advice, Rotundi went to Rochester, where a doctor, Joe knew examined Rotundi, and it was as Rotundi had hoped. Adding to the glad news the doctor said he was willing to perform the operation without charge if Rotundi would pay hospital and other incidental costs.

That called for exactly $150 more than Rotundi had, so he went back to his blind friend, De Beer. Joe swiftly rounded up four businessmen and put it up to them like this: How much is a man's sight worth? They thought it was $25 apiece. The rest was collected from fellow students at St. Paul Vocational High school, where Joe was training for a war plant job.

Not long after, Rotundi came back from the hospital. His sight is a long way from normal, but he can see enough to take care of a little down payment on one debt he owes. It's a big thrill for Pasquale to help friends find their way about; he remembers the helping hands extended him during his four years of darkness.

Republican Women Submit Program

CINCINNATI, Sept. 1. — Post-war recommendations adopted by advisory board members of the National Federation of Women's Republican clubs will be submitted to the Republican postwar advisory council at its meeting at Mackinac Island, Mich., next week.

Gov. John W. Bricker, a possibility for the Republican presidential nomination next year, will be guest of honor at a tea during today's closing session of the two-day conference.

Miss Marion E. Martin, assistant chairman of the Republican national committee, told board members yesterday that women voters will hold the balance of power in at least 32 states in next year's presidential election.

Analyzing what she described as a total potential vote of 85,000,000 in 1944, Miss Martin declared the increased force of women voters would favor Republican candidates. The total women's potential vote, Miss Martin asserted, is only 339,337 less than the male vote total.

Potential women voters actually outnumber males in 12 states, she said, listing them as Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, New Hampshire, North and South Carolina, Rhode Island and Tennessee. In 20 others, Miss Martin added, men held a lead of only 1,000 to 15,000 and she predicted the women's vote would decide election outcomes there.

SYNTHETIC TIRES CAN STAND SPEED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1. — Rubber Director William M. Jeffers said today the all-synthetic tires on which millions of motorists will be rolling next year will come close to pre-war wearability.

Should it become possible to lift the 35-mile-an-hour speed limit, Jeffers told reporters, drivers could run "at normal speeds" on synthetic casing without fear of tire failure. He didn't define normal speeds.

Reports that the war-born tires would have to be trundled along at covered-wagon speeds were dismissed as "plain honey."

Early synthetic tires showed a life of about 13,000 miles under testing, but the rubber chief pointed out that manufacturers were working with a strange material then. But now, he added, they have "learned a lot."

After a concave of company and rubber union workers, Jeffers said agreement had been reached for "substantial reduction" of the proposed $95,000,000 tire factory expansion program.

The unionists had objected to the building of new plants where their locals would not be established, and contended that next year's production goal of 30,000,000 synthetic tires could be met by installation of machinery in existing plants.

Chimney Sweep Has Unique Draft Case; And He's Deferred

By BARBARA CALLAHAN

United Press Staff Correspondent
OMAHA — Bob Eli, inspector of ventilators (chimney sweep to you) in 46 states, has no draft worries— at least in his immediate staff. For his three chief assistants might well be the living, breathing "See No Evil, Hear No Evil, Speak No Evil" monkeys. They are much too busy cleaning ventilators, chimneys and cooling systems all over the country to get into mischief.

His firm is best known as "Eli and Eli," and the second Eli of the partnership is a singularly intelligent baboon who shares his responsibility as well as his name. Bob's monkey employees started working long before the war or the manpower shortage. A competitor was giving him a little trouble about ten years ago, so he bought "Eli," his favorite, and trained her as a publicity stunt to give his business the shot-in-the arm it needed.

Learn Fast
She's a baboon, just like me," says Bob, as he boasts that Eli learned faster than any human being he ever tried to train.

He says that all monkeys learn fast, and there are ventilators too small even for him, agile gypsy that he is, to crawl into.

Two of the monkeys, Patchy and Bobo, are goldbrickers from way back and it takes the constant surveillance of Eli, the man, and Eli, the monkey, to keep them on the job. No housewife is more particular than Eli as she goes willing into the ventilators, does her work and surveys it with pride—let her catch "one of the boys" napping and there's the trouble ahead for him.

Misses Her Baby
Right now it's a little hard for her to keep her mind on her job—she's the mother of a baby baboon—and it's hard for her to leave it during the long working day. Bob's wife says the baby baboon is more trouble than all of her three children and has suggested more than once to her husband that he give Eli a leave of absence until the baby is on its own.

Bob Eli says he's "going to retire next year in my own home back in Indiana — and let someone else clean my chimneys. Twenty-four years in this business is long enough for any man."

He's the thirteen-year-old son of a gypsy family, born 38 years ago in a covered wagon. He started his work at 14 and now has 78 men working for him—all Gypsies he's trained and schooled in the trade.

Church Expulsion Appeal Predicted

MOUNT VERNON, O., Sept. 1.—An attorney for the Vine street Church of Christ board predicted today the board would carry its fight to expel 15 members "to the supreme court, if necessary."

C. B. McClintock, Canton lawyer, said he felt certain board members would vote this week to appeal the decision of Common Pleas Judge Fred W. Wickham of Delaware, who ruled yesterday the expulsion was illegal and void.

"The board is fighting for the right of a church to govern ecclesiastical affairs without court interference unless a civil right is involved," the attorney declared. "In this case, the board feels it has every right to prohibit the defendants from entering church property because they failed to obey rules set down by the church officials and were insubordinate in their actions. We will seek recognition of that right in the supreme court, if necessary."

He denied the only way a member could be expelled was for "gross immorality after a congregational trial" as Judge Wickham had stated in his decision. Earlier, the judge refused to pass on the members' reinstatement on the grounds he lacked authority to do so.

Robert L. Carr, lawyer-spokesman for the 15 defendants, asserted the court's decision also reinstated by inference some 700 other parishioners who were dropped from the church rolls last March.

Seeking Photo Equipment For Ohio's 37th Division

COLUMBUS, Sept. 1.—Gov. John W. Bricker began a canvass of state departments today for photographic equipment requested in a letter from Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, commander of Ohio's 37th division, battling the Japs in the Southwest Pacific.

The governor made public a letter from Beightler requesting the equipment to replace supplies "worn and battered to pieces" by hard usage in this campaign. The commander suggested that some of the items might be obtained on loan from state departments or that "possibly some other good Ohioans may help if our needs are known."

Beightler wrote the governor that "you and the people of Ohio may feel a measure of satisfaction and modest pride in the achievement of Ohio troops when the story is told."

Tonight only "Sleepy Lagoon," starring Judy Canova and Dennis Day, will be at the State. The small town where the two live is anything but sleepy when Judy is appointed mayor and tries to win the heart of Dennis Day.

The thrilling adventure story of the Merchant Marine, "Action in the North Atlantic," featured at the State Thursday, Friday and Saturday, stars Humphrey Bogart as first mate on a ship which braves the hazardous route to Murmansk with a cargo of vital war supplies. Raymond Massey portrays the part of the captain and Julie Bishop has the leading feminine role.

Marguerite Chapman and George Sanders have the leading romantic roles in "Appointment in Berlin," which shows at the Grand for the last time tonight. Miss Chapman portrays a beautiful German girl who gets her views of the Nazi party changed after meeting George Sanders, a member of the British Intelligence who is masquerading as a member of the Nazi group in order to obtain military information for his own country.

A double feature, "Law of the Northwind" and "Here Comes Kelly" will be at the Grand Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Widow Pleads Insanity In School Man's Death

MARION, Sept. 1.—Mrs. Gladys Vance, 39, indicted for first degree murder in the June 2 explosion death of her husband, Terley L. Vance, Marion school principal, pleaded innocent by reason of temporary insanity when arraigned before Judge Hector S. Young.

Judge Young took the plea under advisement pending a possible mental examination of the defendant, but asserted the case would be tried by a jury.

Mrs. Vance appeared in court wearing bandages on bullet wounds in the head inflicted, police said, by herself after her husband was burned fatally in an explosion of gas fumes as he lit a cigaret in his bedroom.

Phillies Drop Seventh And Dodgers Annex Third Place

BROOKLYN HELPED WHEN CARDS BEAT PITTSBURGH BUCS

Braves Gain Revenge On Mungo When Andrews Hurls 4-Hitter

The drought has set in again for William Drought Cox, the victory-thirsty president of the Philadelphia Phillies.

It was five weeks ago yesterday that the old yale blue saw red and fired Bucky Harris, his manager with a background of 20 years as a major league pilot, and hired Fred Fitzsimmons, former pitching star of the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers.

Harris was ousted after the club had lost six games in a row and 11 out of 14. Under Fitzsimmons the Phillies turned right around and won 11 of their next 14 games, but now Cox's collection of castoffs has returned to what probably is its normal gait.

Since their early spurt under Fitzsimmons, the Phillies have lost 14 out of 18 contests and last night dropped their seventh straight for the club's longest losing streak of the season.

The latest loss was 4-2 to the Brooklyn Dodgers, who completed a sweep of their four-game series and moved into third place in the National League.

Kirby Higbe pitched six-hit ball and the Dodgers clinched their conquest in the third inning when Luis Rodriguez Olmo tripled one run across and then scored himself on an error by Catcher Dee Moore, a former Dodger.

Brooklyn's return to third place was gained with the help of the St. Louis Cardinals, who beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 in a two-run homer by Harry (Little Dixie) Walker in the ninth inning.

The Cincinnati Reds preserved their grasp on second place by nosing out the Chicago Cubs 3-2 in a duel between Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer, former teammates on the Reds.

Derringer pitched five-hit ball while Walters gave up nine, but Bucky kept the Cubs' blows scattered and himself produced a triple and scored two runs.

At Boston, the Braves gained revenge on Van Lingle Mungo for the two-hit shutout he pitched against them last Saturday. Nate Andrews retaliated with a four-hit hurling job and Elmer Nieman hit a three-run homer, a triple and a single to score three times himself and drive in three runs for a 6-0 triumph over the New York Giants.

No games were scheduled in the American League.

Dartmouth Coach Gaining Football Success Hard Way

BY BILL KING

HANOVER, N. H., Sept. 1.—After being rudely disillusioned at the outset of his brand new career, Dartmouth's Earl Brown, at 27 one of the youngest head coaches in this wartime college football, has become reconciled to gaining success the hard way.

"Before I was offered this job, I heard on every side that Dartmouth's Navy V-12 allotment was going to be loaded with experienced football material," said that Notre Dame product who has tutored ends at Brown and Harvard.

"There were supposed to be some 20-odd holdovers from last year's team and most of the 1942 Fordham squad, along with many Big Ten stars, were reported as being assigned to the Dartmouth Marines unit."

"I soon learned these reports were greatly exaggerated," Brown explained. "Only about 10 of last year's Dartmouth squadmen are here now and the contingents from the other colleges were far from being jammed with experienced football players."

Good Representation

Brown, assisted by Johnny Del Isola, former Fordham line star, and Milt Piepl, recent Notre Dame backfield sensation, has included the products of 10 different colleges on his first two ranking teams.

His out standing ends, John Monahan and Allen Russell, and Holy Cross' capable Jim Landrine and Mel Downey rate miles above their rival tackles. The best of the guards, Rog Antaya of Dartmouth, Marty Fay of Manhattan, Don Alvarez of Wisconsin and Jerry Kelley of Fordham, appear evenly matched, as do the top centers, Norm Brown, another Dartmouth holdover, and Edsel Gustafson from George Washington university.

Most of Brown's backfield squad, which is well-manned with passers, receivers and kickers, hail from the east.

The Dartmouth schedule: Sept. 26 (Sunday), Holy Cross at Worcester, Mass.; Oct. 2, Coast Guard academy; 9, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; 30, Yale at New Haven; Nov. 6, Columbia; 13, Cornell at Boston; 20, Princeton at Princeton.

Call Meeting to Form Non-Handicap League

Another meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Friday at the Salem Bowling center for the purpose of organizing a non-handicap bowling league, composed principally of teams of the former Bowling League. Initial steps toward organizing the league were taken at a meeting last week.

BETTING AT HORSE TRACKS NEW HIGH

Millions Are Poured Into Mutuels of 13 Buckeye Race Meetings

COLUMBUS, Sept. 1.—Millions of Ohio's wartime dollars are boosting the betting "take" at Buckeye horse tracks toward an all-time high, state racing commission records showed today.

Followers of the ponies already this year have poured $4,559,949 into the mutuels of 13 race meetings—and lucrative programs still are scheduled.

The present annual Ohio peak for gross play is $10,407,097, chalked up at 27 meetings during 1942. This yielded the state $178,989 in taxes and sundry fees.

Fans wagered $3,800,598 at running meets since the season opened last spring, while the more conservative harness race enthusiasts bet $750,050.

Here are the gross play figures on file for meetings already held: Runners—Asot park, Akron, 19 days, $1,140,636; Beulah park, Grove City, 26 days, $1,123,550 (spring meeting only); Ohio Sports enterprise, Hamilton, 19 days, $753,684; Port Stuben, Steubenville, 16 days, $380,816; and Port Miami, Toledo, 18 days, $401,912.

Harness—North Randall, Cleveland, 20 days, $378,534; Marion Trotting association, Marion, 15 days, $116,140; Darke county fair, four days, $33,678; Fayette county fair, three days, $11,497; Mercer county fair, four days, $7,212; Ashtabula county fair, three days, $5,324; Trumbull county free fair, three days, $4,366; and Madison county fair, two days, $2,239.

The daily gross play average at Asot park was $60,033, at Beulah's meeting $43,213, at Hamilton $39,667 and at North Randall's harness program $28,928.

Three normally rich running meets will swell the volume of wagers before the curtain is lowered. A 25-day meet is in progress at Cincinnati's river downs plant; the Thistle Down track at Cleveland is to conduct a 19-day program from Sept. 18 to Oct. 9, and Beulah's fall meeting is slated for Sept. 4-24, an 18-day card.

In addition, possibly 15 harness meetings are in prospect at county fairs.

Bethany Plays Miami

BETHANY, W. Va., Sept. 1.—Coach John Knight reported Bethany college's 1943 football schedule included an opener with Miami university at Oxford, O. Sept. 25, and a tentative Oct. 9 date here with Muskingum college. He mentioned also the possibility of a game with Ohio Wesleyan.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The public is always what? . . . After the starting gate at Aqueduct busted down Wednesday and the favorite was left at the post in a "flag" start, the racing commission ordered the tracks to keep a spare on hand hereafter . . . but that didn't help the customers who had bet nearly $62,000 on Light Lady . . . and while the fight fans still were cheering Henry Armstrong's decision to retire for good after his dismal showing against Ray Robinson, hang up and decided to go through with one more against Slugger White in Los Angeles because the contract already had been signed . . . wonder if the fellows ever stopped to think that they have an unwritten contract with the public, too—with a clause that says "if you can't give the kind of show we pay for, get out?"

Al Simmons took his seven-year-old son for a swing around the American League this summer . . . after watching for some time while his dad either decorated the bench or tried with little success to get a few hits, the youngster asked: "Pop, do you get as much pay as the other players?" Simmons allowed that he got about the same as most and maybe a little more than some, then inquired what prompted the question. "Well, I've been watching," said the kid, "and you don't seem to do as much as they do."

If you need a chilling breeze some day, ask Clark Griffith about Rip Sewell's "new" blooper pitch . . . It was only about 40 years ago that Griffith used to lead the batters until they were ready to murder either the ball or the pitcher and then toss up a soft one underhand and watch 'em break their backs swinging before it got there . . . Richard Bromberg, son of the New York World-Telegram writer, is four years old today and Poppa Lester had an "extra" printed to tell his son, Bobo, that he was a Senator again and maybe this time they'll give him the job for which he is best qualified—speaker.

The New Champ

When Pvt. Joe Hennessy of Camp Roberts, Calif., a former writer on Outdoor Topics, attended a recent Minnesota reunion at Paso Robles, it was only natural for him to end the talk story contest . . . after whoopers that were long as well as tall, Pvt. Hennessy arose and declared that he'd rather be taking a 20-mile hike in the army any day than be catching those big muskies in lake of the woods. . . . They awarded Joe the prize without further discussion.

Camp Lee Va., which had to cancel most of its ambitious football schedule last fall, is getting up another team with Pvt. Warren Casey, former Harvard center and Lieut. Marshall Spivey, Texas A. & M. back as coaches. The Redskins, Giants and Dodgers have promised to play the stay-at-home "travelers" and games with Virginia colleges are being sought . . . because some key players have been transferred, others injured and new candidates haven't time for practice, Fort Sheridan, Ill., has cancelled the rest of its baseball schedule.

Ohio Has Surprise Team In Legion Junior Series

MILES CITY, Mont., Sept. 1.—Heavy hitting teams from Minneapolis and Springfield, O., will meet tonight to decide one of baseball's weightiest issues for "teen-agers"—the American Legion Junior championship.

The Richfields, from Minneapolis, slammed into the finals last night with a 9-6 victory over the strong New Orleans Jax. The defeat ousted New Orleans from the double elimination tournament, the Legion's world series.

Springfield, surprise team of the tournament, rested yesterday after having won three out of four games.

Springfield is expected to start its all-around ace, southpaw Harry Amato, in tonight's game. Amato hurled two wins, and saved another with a fine ninth-inning relief performance.

MOST GOLF clubs boast at least one strong-backed young amateur who can knock a golf ball a country-mile. But the Seaview Golf club at Absecon, N. J., site of the 1942 P.G.A. championship, tops them all with James E. (Sonny) Fraser. Fraser's supporters insist he is the longest-hitting golfer in the country—pro or amateur.

That's taking in a lot of territory, but the facts seem to indicate that their convictions are well founded. The veteran Leo Diegel, mindful of such long hitters in the pro ranks as Jimmy Thomson, Sammy Sneed and Johnny Bulla, gives the nod to young Fraser without reservations. Craig Wood, Henry Picard, Gene Kunes, Tony Penna and other leading pros loudly acclaim Fraser the top hitter among amateurs.

In a practice round with Sneed shortly before the P.G.A. championship, the 27-year-old Fraser was from 20 to 30 yards longer off the tee than Snammin' Sammy.

The closest Sonny ever came to matching tee shots with Thomson was in the pro-amateur event which preceded the 1940 South Jersey Open at the Country club of Atlantic City. Fraser's four-some trailed Thomson's group so Whitey Gruhler, sports editor of the Atlantic City Press-Union, followed Thomson and remained at the point where Jimmy's drives landed until Fraser had hit. In this fashion, Gruhler was able to draw a sound comparison of their respective efforts.

Gruhler recorded that on 13 holes, omitting the par three holes, Fraser was longer off eight tees. On only two holes did Thomson top the amateur ace. The remaining three tee shots were about even.

Fraser is no Johnny-come-lately in golf. His father, the late "Jolly Jim" Fraser, was professional at the exclusive Seaview Country club. Sonny's first and only toys were golf clubs. In 1919, at the age of three, he had a model golf swing. When he was five, Sonny shot a 120 at Seaview to defeat the late President Warren G. Harding before a gallery composed of ambassadors, senators and other dignitaries.

At 13, Sonny cracked Seaview's par 71 by two strokes. A year later his 67 equalled the course record held jointly by his father and Walter Hagen. That mark was his father's last golfing achievement and Sonny refused to break it. He often three or four putted the final green to avoid a new record.

After someone else lowered the mark, Sonny promptly regained the record for the Fraser family with a 65. Later he shaved it down to 64. He went on a record-breaking spree this summer and on two occasions toured the course in 60 strokes! All of which must be something of a world record for a course measuring well over 6,000 yards.

These prodigious scoring feats indicate that Sonny's game is not entirely wrapped up in his booming tee shots. As a matter of fact, there isn't a shot in the golf bag that he does not play with control and finesse. Sonny has the height and weight—he stands 6-foot-2 and weighs 195 pounds—to get distance and just about the finest pair of hands an athlete could be blessed with for delicate control.

Added to his physical assets, Fraser has an insatiable appetite for practice. It is safe to hazard the guess that Sonny spends more time on the practice tee than he does playing the game. He is ever ready to lend a willing ear to tips proffered by the pros and constantly strives for improvement.

Right now, Sonny is playing with a set of clubs which Sneed gave him in appreciation for his helpful suggestions when Sammy sought the P.G.A. title at Seaview. Sonny has no desire to turn professional; rather his golf dreams lie in the direction of the national amateur championship.

Do you still think you have an amateur ace who can top Sonny Fraser off the tee?

Ohio College Football Not As Robust As Former Years

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Sept. 1.—Ohio's 1943 college football campaign, appearing hardly large enough to cast a shadow, when compared with the robust, 36-team drives of former seasons.

Shorn of talent by Selective Service and enlistments, and with transportation menaced by gasoline rationing and other restrictions, 20 of the state's 36 football-playing colleges have dropped out for the duration of the war. A dozen have announced they will play, three haven't said a word, and the 36th, Kenyon, is awaiting the first squad call before making up its mind.

The 36-game slate . . . of which Ohio State university is playing nine—probably will be augmented quite a bit as schedules are straightened out after being tossed into turmoil by wholesale cancellations, but not more than 60 games are expected.

Of the 17 games against foreign foes, Ohio State plays nine. A year ago, in 73 jousts with out-of-state squads, Ohioans won 43, lost 28 and tied two.

Teams definitely out of the football race for the duration are Akron, Ashland, Cincinnati, Hiram, John Carroll, Marietta, Toledo, Wittenberg, Western Reserve, Youngstown, Kent State, Heidelberg, Dayton, Wilmington, Ohio Northern, Ohio university, Defiance, Capital, Denison and Bluffton, 10 of them in the Ohio conference which leaves only nine possible starters in that unwieldy 19-college loop.

Findlay, Mount Union and Muskingum haven't announced whether they will field teams, but Baldwin Wallace, Bowling Green, Case, Miami, Ohio Wesleyan, Oberlin, Ohio State, Otterbein, Rio Grande, Xavier, Wilberforce and Wooster will be in there trying.

Up to date the biggest Saturday calls for only five games—a far cry from the 1942 schedules which set as many as 25 games for some weekends.

P. S.—Some of the 36 games scheduled this season are listed as tentative.

REDS POUND AWAY ON THREE FRONTS

Moscow Celebrates Triple Victories; Press Vital German Base

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Sept. 1.—The Russian army pounded westward today on three separate fronts in a tremendous offensive which threatened to crush the entire German defensive system in the east.

Moscow, celebrating its second and third major victories within two days, announced that: (1)—Soviet forces in the north have driven to within 45 miles of the big Nazi base at Smolensk; (2)—on the central front two Russian columns have penetrated 40 miles into the fertile Ukraine; (3)—on the south Cossacks and tank units are methodically stamping out remnants of the Taganrog garrison after capturing that city and are driving on toward the industrial center of Stalingrad and the Azov seaport of Mariupol.

The triple victories took place within a day but news of the successes on the central and northern front were held back by the Soviet high command to give Moscow an unprecedented two-day celebration.

In the north a drive on a 30-mile front from Spas Detsk to Yelnya, whose fall was announced yesterday, threatened the Nazis with one of the major catastrophes of the summer campaign because it brought the Red army within striking distance of the city of Smolensk, chief German operational headquarters for the whole northern Russia area.

Smolensk fell into German hands in the opening days of the war in 1941 and has since served as the hub of Nazi offensive operations.

The Russian midnight communiqué said Soviet troops were nearing the German defense line on the Ugra river and had recaptured 170 villages in battles which cost the Nazis 5,000 dead and the loss of 50 tanks and 31 planes.

Two hundred miles south of Yelnya on the Sevs from Russian columns were penetrating deeper into the Ukraine from newly-captured Glukhov and Ryisk.

From Glukhov north for 175 miles the Russian line paralleled the Kiev-Konotop-Bryansk and at Glukhov Russian forces were only seven miles from the railway.

If the Red army is able to slash across the line at any point it will be a serious blow to the vital German base at Bryansk, now threatened by a frontal assault from the direction of Karachev.

The Sevs advance resulted in the capture of 200 villages, and more than 3,000 Germans were killed and 28 tanks destroyed in the fighting. Eight hundred other Nazi troops were reported taken prisoner.

her to do that? If you want the Reds to fight against Japan you'd better pray mighty hard that the Japs commit some hostile act—and stranger things than hostile acts have happened.

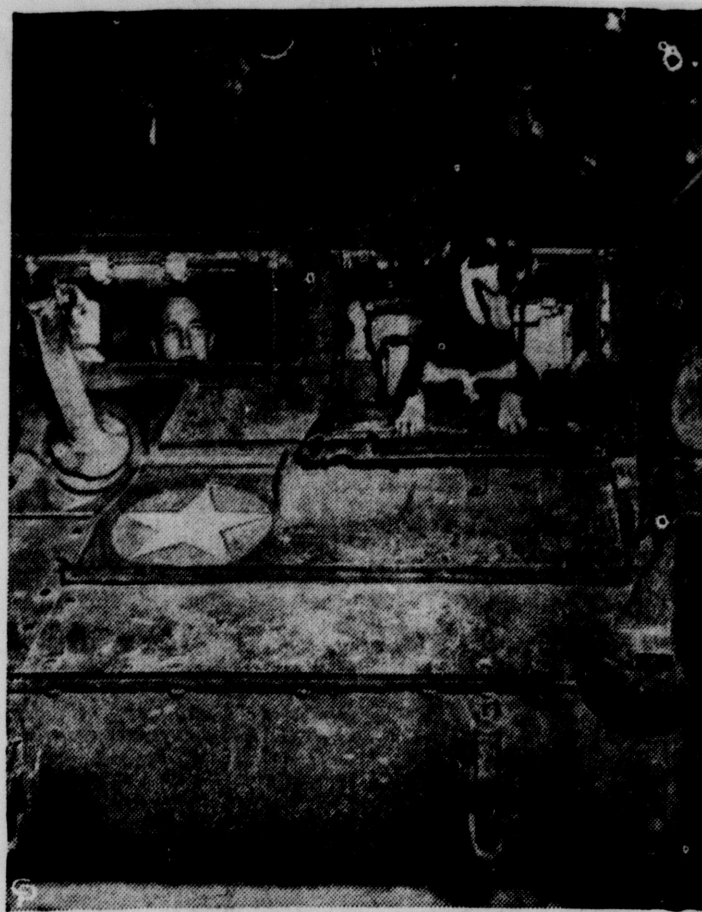

Viewing the matter from the purely "practical" standpoint, what reason is there to expect that Russia will do other than be governed by honor and personal interests after the war with Germany is finished? Getting down to cases, do you know any nation that in this global holocaust purely for altruistic reasons?

Should circumstances release Moscow from its non-aggression pact, there's no present reason to doubt that the Reds would at least throw open their airports to the allies. It shouldn't be forgotten that Japan is Russia's mortal enemy, the pact notwithstanding.

Still, that doesn't necessarily guarantee that Russia will go all-out in war against Japan.

Small Business Can Give Pay Increases

CLEVELAND, Sept. 1.—The small business man, with 30 or fewer employees, was assured today by regional War Labor Board Chairman Lewis M. Gill he could grant merit raises without board sanction provided:

The total increase granted an employee does not exceed 10 cents per straight-time hour during any year beginning July 1.

The total of all increases during any year does not surpass an average of five cents per straight-time hour for all employees whose earnings are under WLB jurisdiction.

The raise does not bring the rate higher than the maximum paid for the same work classification between July 1 and Oct. 3, 1942, with regard to wages, and up to last Oct. 27 with regard to salaries, unless approved by the WLB.

The increase is not contrary to terms of any collective bargaining agreement.

Such a raise will not result in any appreciable rise in production costs or a price increase; and

The increase will not be cited as a reason for asking WLB approval of increases in other rates because of resulting inequalities within the same plant.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 1.—For the first time since Jan. 1 the number of cases of infantile paralysis in Ohio today exceeded last year's comparable figure—63 to date this year against 62 in 1942—State Health Director R. H. Markwith reported.

"Ohio has but 18 active cases currently," however, Dr. Markwith said, "and these are so widely scattered that I cannot regard the incidence as significant."

LIVESTOCK GAINS OFFSET FOOD DROP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Assessing increases in livestock would more than offset a 9 per cent decline in food crops, the department of agriculture predicted the total 1943 food production would be in excess of last year's record output.

With war requirements expected to absorb about a fourth of the total production, the department's bureau of agricultural economics declared the per capita civilian supply for the year as a whole would be only slightly larger than the consumption for 1935-39, when the average production was 32 per cent smaller than this year's indicated yields.

Revised estimates, the report said, indicate a total meat production of 24,000,000,000 pounds, by far the largest on record and accounted for mainly by an anticipated 20 to 25 per cent increase in pork production over 1942.

It said decreases were indicated for food grains, fruits, truck and sugar crops, while potato and dry edible bean crops are expected to be larger than last year.

Their shouts were unanswered while police started a search for the boys, whose parents had reported them missing.

Searchers received a report that cries had been heard in the vicinity of the supply company and found the boys nearly exhausted. A steam shovel and hand shovels were used to free them.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—July aircraft production was 12 percent behind schedule, a War Production board spokesman disclosed today, despite Monday's announcement that plane output was four percent above June, with a total of 7,373 aircraft produced.

As a result of the summer slump some WPB officials have concluded that this year's 65 billion dollar overall arms production goal will not be met.

Top officials stoutly assert that the goal still can be achieved, but qualified observers within the agency reckon that 62 billion dollars is closer to the attainable.
